SOLUTIONS

Worldwide Award Top Choice From A Pool of 2,000 Entrants Recognizes Custom Development Using Microsoft Technology To Address Demanding Needs

São Paulo, SP, Brazil — July 15, 2009 – Deloitte’s Enterprise Risk Management Practice Area along with Microsoft Gold Certified Partner L3, are pleased to announce that the Ew-Risk® application developed by the two companies was awarded the 2009 Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference Winner in Custom Development. This Brazilian market-leading solution, built on Microsoft Technology, is used by Deloitte consultants to facilitate, capture, track and report comprehensive activities and findings for its customers in the area of Enterprise Risk.

“Our vision for the Ew-Risk solution was to integrate business process productivity improvements throughout the audit process life cycle.” said Leandro Lopes, President of L3. “We are pleased with the completion of this core component that drives the Deloitte Audit process against its extensive knowledge bases based on customer roles, industry, function and control processes.”

With exponential growth challenges in the Global Regulatory & Compliance market place, companies are realizing that risks left improperly monitored can generate strong negative impact to their business value, even continuity. The market is ready for new approaches helping executives monetize and monitor risk throughout their business and at the same time drive compliance and improved operations.

“The Ew-Risk solution represents a unique way to support the entire risk intelligence and management process.” said Juarez Lopes de Araújo, President of Deloitte Brazil. “The risk management process must be supported by tools that classify the categories of risks, and bring to attention areas within the company or business processes where there is exposure. Ew-Risk is a state-of-the-art software+services solution that helps companies classify, measure and monitor key risks.”

This 2009 Microsoft Worldwide Partner Conference Award for Custom Solution was selected from over 2,000 international entries and recognizes excellence in applying Microsoft Technology to complex and demanding business needs.
